New In GALILEO This Year

CGTC has a lot of new resources in GALILEO for FY 2008. Some are expansions of existing databases (such as Academic Search Complete, Business Source Complete, and Consumer Health Complete), but there are some brand new databases that have exciting potential for our school:

The Blackwell Encyclopedia of Management Library – This database contains the full text of the 12-volume print edition and is kept current in its online form. Long recognized as a major resource for business and management information, this database also includes chapters from 9 other Blackwell management titles covering areas such as ethics, organizational behavior, and entrepreneurship.

CINAHL with Full Text – The Cumulative Index to Nursing and Allied Health Literature indexes most of the existing journals in this field. Now enhanced with the full text of nearly 600 journals as far back as 1981 (almost 300 of them are not found in other databases), this is a valuable resource for the all of our Health Technology programs and complements the Health Source: Nursing/Academic Edition and ProQuest Nursing and Allied Health Source databases already in GALILEO.

HOW TO FIND:

Click on the GALILEO icon on the Library's Web Page:

Then click on the "Databases A-Z" tab for an alphabetic list of all GALILEO databases.

- For more information please visit our libraries or e-mail us at library@centralgatech.edu.

Advanced Placement Source – AP Source is intended to help high school students in Advanced Placement courses such as economics, history, mathematics, chemistry, biology, psychology, and computer science, among many others. AP Source contains over 6,000 full text journals and over 200,000 pictures, maps, and flags. This database is useful for general information on many subjects at any level.
